

Silicon Valley International

Art Competition

7th Annual

January 27, 28, 29, 2012

Silicon Valley International ART Competition 2012 (SVIAC) would like to invite you to enter our international event being held January 27, 28, 29, 2012. SVIAC is a San Jose, California based, open competition that is committed to widening the scope to culture exchanges with artists of outstanding abilities in music and dance from throughout the world. Our original purpose 7 years ago, was to advance cultural exchanges between the United States and China. Today, it draws from countries throughout the world, through the competitions of pianos, folk instruments, vocal, martial arts, painting, acrobatics and dance talents, it provides a platform from the youth to adult of international talents to experience and participate in a wide variety of the performing arts while still allowing them to excel in their chosen field.

$1,000 Award to the Grand Prix of each category

Competition Held at:

CPAA Arts Center

6148 Bollinger Road, San Jose, CA 95129 USA

Registration Deadline:

January 15th, 2012

Visual & Performing Arts Center of De Anza College

21250 Stevens Creek Blvd, Cupertino, CA 95014 USA

Registration form download: www.artsiliconvalley.org

Phone (408) 973-8276 Fax (408) 973-8255

Presenter: CPAA Cultural & Arts Center

Sponsors: City of San Jose; Marchese Family Foundation

Graphic Designer: Jess Hutchins